Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 1 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-29 are currently pending in the instant application and are subject to a lack of unity requirement.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

Group I, Claims 1 and 4-8 drawn to a process of preparing formula II.

Group II, Claims 2, 9 and 11-14 drawn to the formula III and processes of preparing formula III.

Group III, Claim 3 drawn to the formula IV.

Group IV, Claim 10 drawn to formula IX.

Group V, Claims 15, 16, 19, 20, 22, 23, 24-28 drawn to a process of preparing formula I.

Group VI, Claims 17, 18, 21 and 29 drawn to a process of preparing formula I.

Group VII, Claim 18 drawn to a process of preparing a quinazoline derivative other than formula I.

Group VIII, Claim 21 drawn to a process of preparing a quinazoline derivative other than formula I.

Group IX, Claim 23 drawn to a process of preparing a quinazoline derivative other than formula I.

Group X, Claim 26 drawn to a process of preparing a quinazoline derivative other than formula I.

Group XI, Claim 28 drawn to a process of preparing a quinazoline derivative other than formula I.

(Note: Claims 18, 21, 23, 26 and 28 are improper "use" claims under 35 USC 101 and have been interpreted as processes of preparation claims for the lack of unity requirement.)

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

The claims herein lack unity of invention under PCT rule 13.1 and 13.2 since, under 37 CFR 1.475(a)

Where a group of inventions is claimed in an application, the requirement of unity of invention shall be fulfilled only when there is a technical relationship among those inventions involving one or more of the same or corresponding special technical features...those technical features that define a contribution which each of the claimed inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art.

Groups I-XI lack unity of invention since under 37 CFR 1.475: the technical feature corresponding to the claims is the compounds of the formula's I, II, III, IV, V, VII, VIII and IX. The formulas I, II, V, VII and VIII are not special technical features because they fail to define a contribution over the prior art as can be seen, for example, by WO 96/33980 which discloses formula I; US 6806274 which discloses formula II; JP 11292855 which discloses formula V; ADAMS et al. which discloses formula VIII; and ODDO which discloses formula VII. Therefore claims 1-29 are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept and there is a lack of unity of invention because they lack special technical features as the technical features of formula I, II, V, VII and VIII fail to define a contribution over the prior art. Accordingly, unity of invention is considered to be lacking and restriction of the invention in accordance with the rules of unity of invention is considered to be proper. Additionally, the vastness of the claimed subject matter, and the complications in understanding the claimed subject matter imposes a serious burden on any examination of the claimed subject matter.

Therefore, since the claims do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 and lack the same or corresponding special technical features, the claims lack unity of invention and should be limited to only a product or a method of preparation

Furthermore, in regards to groups I-XI, under 37 CFR 1.475(b) a national stage application containing claims to different categories of invention will be considered to have unity of invention if the claims are drawn only to one of the following combinations:

- (1) A product and a process specially adapted for the manufacture of said product; or
- (2) A product and a process of use of said product; or
- (3) A product, a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product, and a use of the said product; or
- (4) A process and an apparatus or means specifically designed for carrying out the said process; or
- (5) A product, a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product, and an apparatus or means specifically designed for carrying out the said process.

And, according to 37 CFR 1.475(c)

if an application contains claims to more or less than one of the combinations of categories of invention set forth in paragraph (b), unity of invention might not be present.

Therefore, since the claims are drawn to more than a product and a method of preparation, and according to 37 CFR 1.475 (e) the determination whether a group of inventions is so linked as to form a single general inventive concept shall be made without regard to whether the inventions are claimed in separate claims or as alternatives within a single claim.

The claims, therefore, lack unity of invention.
